

DEBATE HALTS WAR VOTE

LONE "WILFUL" DELAYS SENATE

LaFollette Spills Plan for Unanimous Adoption of President's Proclamation.

HOUSE WILL ACT TOMORROW

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.) Washington, April 3.—Wilson called a war cabinet meeting this afternoon.

As the cabinet assembled members said three most pressing problems facing the government were:

The raising of sufficient money to finance the war operations of the United States and extend credits to the entente allies.

The raising of a large army.

The provision of adequate means of fighting German submarines.

In addition to these problems the cabinet took up the questions of industrial preparedness already considered thoroughly by the Council of National Defense.

The position of this government, as authoritatively outlined today, is that the best move toward peace which can be made by the German government is the establishment of universal suffrage in the German empire and the creation of a ministry responsible to the people rather than to the emperor.

Government officials here consider it inconceivable that the United States could enter into a peace conference such as previously outlined by Germany, unless there was some assurance first that agreements made would be adhered to.

Washington, April 3.—Consideration of the war resolution in the senate was forced over until tomorrow by objections of Senator LaFollette and in the house it was delayed by lack of organization of the foreign affairs committee. It is expected to come up for action in both houses tomorrow.

Meanwhile President Wilson and the cabinet discussed all phases of preparations for the entrance of the United States into the war and administration leaders in congress began laying plans for raising money, most of it, as the president suggested by a system of taxation on the present generation.

The universal military service bill was formally launched in the senate.

No filibuster, Rule. Action by the senate within at least two or three days was predicted today even by senators opposing it. Some of the "wilful men" named by President Wilson declared emphatically there would be no filibuster. F. protracted debate, although several want to speak at length.

Amendments from republican senators, especially to prevent a formal alliance with the entente of a federal loan to them are expected. Senators Borah, Kenyon, Penrose, Colt and other republicans are particularly opposed to an alliance. That there would be no need for resort to the new clause rule to pass the resolution was stated even by some of those opposed to war.

Leaders of both parties in the senate are disposed to pass only appropriation and other war measures and adjourn.

LaFollette Plans Debate. Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin, leader of the "little republic" men, said today he expected there would be "quite a little debate."

House leaders predicted unanimous support of the president.

In the wave of patriotic fervor which swept over the house today after overnight consideration of the president's address, most of the so-called pacifist group fell into line by declaring that if war came they would stand by the president.

In the wave of patriotic fervor which swept over the house today after overnight consideration of the so-called pacifist group fell into line by declaring that if war came they would stand by the president.

Sturges Sees in Senate. The adjournment of the senate today was marked by a stormy scene in which Senator LaFollette, who had been forced to consider the war resolution over until tomorrow and Democratic Leader Martin then forced an adjournment to suit off LaFollette.

War Situation

President Wilson's message last night, asking congress to declare the existence of a state of war with Germany, overshadowed all other events in the war. The president said acquiescence by congress would involve "the utmost practical co-operation in counsel and action" with the government now at war with Germany.

The raising of an army of 500,000 men, who, in his opinion, should be chosen upon the principle of universal liability to service and the granting of adequate credit to the government.

While the president was reading his address to congress, the news came that the armed American freighter Astor had been sunk off the coast of France by a submarine, possibly with the loss of life.

The British and French continue to advance toward the German stronghold of St. Quentin and the British have now only two miles from that town.

The Russians in Persia and the British in Mesopotamia have gained further advantages over the Turks.

ARMED AMERICAN LINER TORPEDOED

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.) Washington, D. C., April 3.—A dispatch from Ambassador Sharp dated at Paris 3 p. m. yesterday said 13 survivors from the Astor were landed yesterday afternoon.

Twenty-five of the crew were missing and 25 persons still are missing because of the heavy sea and storm.

Ambassador Sharp cabled: "The foreign office has just informed me that the American steamer Astor was torpedoed at 8 p. m. last night (April 1) far out at sea off the coast of France."

One boat from the Astor with 15 survivors was landed this afternoon (yesterday) at Brest. Twenty-eight persons are still missing and two patrol vessels are searching for them. The stormy condition of the sea and weather renders their rescue doubtful.

Eleven Are Lost. "Foreign office not informed as to names of survivors. Will cable further details as soon as possible." Dispatches to the French embassy last night put the missing at 11.

Twenty-Four Missing. New York, April 3.—The British freight steamer Trevese, of the Fabre line, reported by Germany as having been sunk on March 18 and 24 survivors of its crew are accounted for, according to officials of the Barber line steamship company, which arrived here today with five of the Trevese's crew.

The Trevese brought also 19 men from the British passenger steamer Alnwick Castle, reported by Germany as having been sunk without survivors on March 19.

The five from the Trevese were rescued by the Alnwick Castle from an open boat.

The 24 men brought in by the Trevese had floated for four days and nights in open boats. They said five of their number died from exposure during this time. Many of these rescued are suffering from frost bite and frozen limbs.

Ten Survivors Die. The Alnwick Castle, they said, carried a crew of 100 men and 24 passengers. Of the 124 persons, it carried, 110 of them were missing. The five from the Trevese were rescued by the Alnwick Castle from an open boat.

The 24 men brought in by the Trevese had floated for four days and nights in open boats. They said five of their number died from exposure during this time. Many of these rescued are suffering from frost bite and frozen limbs.

Seven boats were launched from the Alnwick Castle but owing to the strong gale they were soon separated and 100 of the 124 souls aboard are unaccounted for.

Survivors of the Trevese said that vessel was sunk in the morning of the eighteenth, the U-boat not being sighted by any one on board. The survivors were picked up by the Alnwick Castle only a few hours when it was turned.

Tragic News Perished. New York, April 3.—Eleven men of the crew of the American steamship Astor probably were lost when the vessel was sunk Sunday night by a German submarine near Brest, France. The crew numbered 22, of whom 17 were Americans.

American merchant vessel, commanded by Lieut. William P. Gresham, detached from the crew of the gunboat Dolphin and placed aboard the Astor as an armed guard were saved, according to dispatches from the French embassy in Washington.

The Astor was the first armed American merchant vessel to fall victim to German submarine warfare. It left New York for Havre on March 18 with a cargo of foodstuffs and general supplies valued at more than $500,000.

The fact that it was sunk at night with a heavy sea running leads to the belief that the Canadian light cruiser did not even catch sight of its assailant.

Do not try to please everybody, or you will soon be a worn-out wreck.

PAINT PEACE OFFICE YELLOW

Guardsman Smeared Paint Over Front of Capital Pacifist Headquarters.

WHITE BANNERS DESTROYED

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.) Washington, April 3.—A national guardman of the Third District of Columbia Infantry backed by a party of citizens covered the front of the headquarters of the emergency peace federation here with a coat of yellow paint today, while another party of citizens destroyed pacifist banners and literature inside.

Resolute Work on Congressmen. Pacifist delegations here today turned their energies toward trying to persuade senators and representatives from voting for the state of war resolution. They also began a campaign apparently designed to prevent enlistments in the army and navy. Declarations were circulated by persons calling themselves representatives of a no-enlistment league. The signers pledged themselves not to enlist.

Not Plots Frequent. Disorders of yesterday, including several fist fights and small riots in the headquarters of the emergency peace federation in Pennsylvania avenue, resulted today in the disappearance of many of the armbands and body banners worn by the pacifists.

Some admitted they had dispensed with their insignia thru fear of being attacked. The few "peace out" war armbands that appeared drew jeers, hoots and hisses.

The pacifists began their day by calling at the headquarters of the Emergency Peace Federation and asking for instructions. They were told to see their respective senators and representatives.

Peace Commission Secretary Leader. Louis Lochner, former secretary of the Ford peace commission said: "Congress has the power to declare war and we shall try to stop them from voting for it. We are, still pacifists. We don't want to go to war."

It was planned to appoint another committee to go to the White House and endeavor to see President Wilson.

GERMANS WOULD AID ARGENTINE REPUBLIC

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.) Buenos Aires, April 3.—The German minister has assured the Argentine government that certain German financiers, in association with the Argentinian government, are ready to undertake the financing of public works in Argentina. This assurance is interpreted here as a move to impress the government with the economic resources of Germany.

The Buenos Aires Herald says that the Germans are using every means to create differences between Argentina and both the entente and the United States. The paper says the republic will not compromise its neutrality.

AMERICAN BELGIAN RELIEF HEAD PRAISES WILSON

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.) London, April 3, 3:25 p. m.—Herbert C. Hoover, chairman of the American commission for relief in Belgium, today sent the following cablegram to President Wilson:

"The members of the American commission for relief in Belgium ask me to transmit to you an expression of united devotion and of our admiration for the courage and wisdom of your leadership. We wish to tell you that there is no word in your historic statement to congress that does not find a response in all our hearts."

"Two and a half years we have been obliged to remain silent witnesses of the character of the forces dominating this war, but we are now at liberty to say that, although we break away from many German individuals who have given sympathetic support to your work, yet your message ennobles our conviction, born of our intimate experience and contact, that there is no hope for democracy or liberalism, and consequently for the peace and safety of our country, unless the system which brought the world into this unfortunably misery can be stamped out once for all."

To Try Congressmen. (By Associated Press Leased Wire.) New York, April 3.—April 16 has been set for a trial of former congressman H. R. Fowler and others indicted on charges of stirring up strikes in munition plants thru labor national peace council. Franz Hittler, a German agent indicted with them, is now a prisoner of war in England.

GERMAN RAIDER CAPTAIN BITTER TOWARDS AMERICA

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.) Rio Janeiro, April 3.—The captain of one of the vessels captured by the German raider Seeadler says that the German raider carries no torpedoes and is commanded by a man named Von Luckner. He describes the captain as a bitter anti-American, frequently attacking the United States as an unscrupulous country whose only aim was the pursuit of wealth.

ARMY OF POLICEMEN PATROLLING NEW YORK

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.) New York, April 3.—Every policeman in New York not on active patrol reported this morning for reserve duty. Police Commissioner Woods issued the emergency order last night after reading the president's address. The order will keep about 12,000 men ready for immediate service.

PLAN FIRST U. S. ARMY OF 1,200,000

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.) Washington, April 3.—The definite plans of the war department are waiting to go forward to congress when it is ready to receive them. The first element of the plan, is the assembling of 500,000 men under a universal service system as an addition to the regular army and national guard, which would provide a total war strength force of 1,200,000. It is assumed that coincident with the calling out of the new army, orders to recruit the regular and national guard will be issued.

Whether that will be done by voluntary enlistment or by draft, has not yet been decided. Army officers believe 500,000 is the maximum number they can undertake to train at once.

Shortage of Trained Men. Even with provisional lists of officers and the officers' reserve corps to call upon there will be a shortage of training personnel. The units of the regular army, it is said, will be vital to carry the work forward. For that reason the suggestion that an expeditionary force be sent to France, met with a cold reception among officers of the general staff.

There is much uncertainty as to the use to which the national guard is to be put. It was suggested that the full strength of the state forces might be required for protection of property within the United States. President Wilson is believed to have spoken in direct accordance with the advice of the war department and the general staff in his program he broadly outlined to congress.

County M. W. A. Meet.—A meeting of the Modern Woodmen of the county will be held tomorrow at Geneva for the purpose of electing the delegates to the state convention.

ALL MUST BE PATRIOTS OR TRAITORS, SAYS JAMES

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.) Urbana, Ill., April 3.—President Edmund J. James of the University of Illinois, today offered his services in the following telegram to President Wilson:

"I hereby volunteer for any service in which I may be of use. In this situation there can be only patriots and traitors."

WALL STREET STRONG ON PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.) New York, April 3.—President Wilson's address to congress imparted general strength to the stock market at today's opening. Dealings were relatively moderate in volume, however, and without any trace of the turbulent movements of the past year or two. War shares were higher by one or two points.

NO U. S. BREAK YET WITH AUSTRIANS

President in War Message Gives First Intimation That Count Tarnowski Is Not Received.

Wilson Makes Clear, However, That Vienna Government Has Not Yet Made Hostile Move.

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.) Washington, D. C., April 3.—President Wilson's address to congress today contained the first official reference to the government's refusal to receive Count Tarnowski, newly accredited Austro-Hungarian ambassador, and makes clear that the president has no intention of forcing a diplomatic break with Austria at the present.

The president said: "The Austro-Hungarian government has, indeed, avowed its unqualified indorsement and acceptance of the reckless and lawless submarine warfare adopted without disguise by the imperial German government, and it has therefore not been possible for the government to receive Count Tarnowski, the ambassador recently accredited to this government by the imperial and royal government of Austria-Hungary, but that government has not actually engaged in warfare against citizens of the United States on the seas, and I take the liberty for the present, in view of postponing discussion of our relations with the authorities at Vienna."

ALD. SMITH HOLDS PLACE

Archibald Mordau, candidate for alderman in the Third ward, said today that he was in the race to stay. He had intended running for the vacancy which would be left by the resignation of Ald. Michael Smith he said but he is now going to seek the place which will be left vacant by the retirement of Alderman Sylvester. Dr. C. M. Weese is also a candidate for this office.

Yesterday was the last day for candidates for city office to file and as Alderman Smith did not resign there is only one vacancy to fill. Alderman Smith will hold his office unless he is elected mayor when he will resign. The elective officers cannot be held by the same person.

Smallest Recruit Accepted. (By Associated Press Leased Wire.) Davenport, Ia., April 3.—Mike Corso of Burlington, Ia., the smallest recruit in the U. S. army, according to local recruiting officers, was enlisted here late today. He entered the cavalry division of the army. Corso stands 5 feet 1 inch, weighs 120 pounds and is 35 years old. Permission was secured from the war department to enlist Corso.

WAGNER SALOON LICENSE TAKEN

Mayor Harley Revokes Permit for Liquor Sale Sunday—Election Near, Wagner Says.

ALSO DRAWS FINE OF $10

The license of John N. Wagner, saloonkeeper, at 13 North Broadway, was revoked this afternoon by Mayor Harley for violation of the Sunday closing law. Wagner and five other men were arrested in his saloon last Sunday afternoon by Patrolman Frank Byrnes.

In addition to losing his license Wagner was fined $10 and costs by Police Magistrate Barlow for violating the city ordinance which prohibits the opening of saloons on Sunday. The cases against the five men, Joseph Verbeck, John Peterson, Peter Larson, Joseph Brown and Thomas Smith, alleged "Sunday customers," were arrested with Wagner, have not been called.

Chief Notties Wagner. The order revoking Wagner's license was signed by Mayor Harley at 2 o'clock, and was handed to Chief of Police McCarthy a few minutes later. The chief said he would personally have been down town in work.

The ally said he was not allowed to open his saloon at 9 o'clock this afternoon, after the polls closed.

"It is just a grandstand play before election," Wagner said. "I did not sell a drink in my saloon last Sunday. Those men were in there to clean up. It was the first Sunday I have been down town in work."

Chief of Police McCarthy said this afternoon that Wagner was selling liquor to the five men last Sunday. One of the five came out of the saloon with his pockets filled with beer, the chief said.

"Smith, whose right name is Stewart, offered Patrolman Byrnes a bottle of beer," the chief said. "He was coming out of the place when the officer arrived. The other men arrested were not porters. A complaint was made at headquarters by telephone that Wagner was doing business and Byrnes was sent out to watch. When he saw one of the five customers go in he went over and made the arrest. Mayor Harley has always said he would revoke the license of any saloonkeeper caught doing business on Sunday."

ROOSEVELT IN CAPITAL TO CONGRATULATE WILSON

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.) Washington, D. C., April 3.—Colonel Roosevelt also intended to leave home from Florida to call on President Wilson at the White House and congratulate him on his address to congress.

Colonel Roosevelt went to the main door of the executive mansion where he learned that the president had gone to his office. He told the chief usher he was only in town between trains and wished to congratulate the president on "his great state paper." The colonel left his card and departed without seeing the president.

Colonel Roosevelt, standing in the midst of a great crowd in the railroad station here dictated the following statement:

"The president's message is a great state paper which will rank in history among the great state papers of which Americans in future years will be proud. It now rests with the people in practice, the policy the president has outlined and that we strike as hard, as soon and as effectively as possible in aggressive war against the government of Germany. We must stand troops to the firing line as rapidly as possible. Defensive war is hopeless."

"We must by vigorous offensive warfare win the right to have our voice count for civilization and justice when the time for peace comes."

"I, of course, very earnestly hope that I may be allowed to raise a division for immediate service at the front. I guarantee that no finer body of fighting men could be gathered together than there would be in this division but of course the men to whom I would appeal will come forward only if it is understood that the division is to be sent at the earliest practicable moment into the fighting line."

Colonel Roosevelt did not intend to stop here until this morning when he read the president's address. Then he decided to stop over and congratulate him.

Followed thru the station by a large crowd, from which many rushed and shook his hand, the colonel took an automobile sent by his daughter, Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, and drove directly to the White House. He is expected to take a train later in the afternoon for New York.

"IT WASN'T THE BABY DOCTOR THOUGHT IT WAS"

This is the reply of Mrs. Edna Farrington Congrave's attorneys to the testimony of Dr. J. W. Frickard in the United States district court at Chicago, that he was present "when the baby was born" and that he knew she was only 15 years old when she was married to the late Luther Congrave in June, 1912. Congrave was 51 years old and Attorney Frank R. Reid, who is attacking the marriage for Edward Congrave, a brother of the deceased husband, contends that Luther was insane and that the girl was forced to marry him by her parents.

A $50,000 estate, two-thirds of which will go to Mrs. Farrington Congrave if her marriage is not annulled, is the bone of contention in the suit.

VERY LIGHT VOTE WAS CAST TODAY

Less Than 1,200 Had Gone to the Polls at 3 O'clock This Afternoon, Report.

Estimated Total Township Vote Will Be About 2,500, Leaders Predicted Then.

A light vote was being cast at the township election here today, only 1,100 voters being cast at 3 o'clock. It was estimated that a total vote of about 2,500 would be cast.

Few women were voting in the various precincts. Those who did vote went to the polls accompanied by their husbands.

The main interest in the election centered in the contest for justice. It was a fight between Lester Galvin, seeking re-election on the independence ticket, and the candidates of the People's-Independent party. There are five justices to be elected.

See Supervisors Winner. All seven candidates for assistant supervisor on the People's-Independent ticket seemed assured of election. Lester Keck, the only opposing candidate, is in Florida, and has made no campaign. His name was put on the independence ticket while he was in Florida and he did not have an opportunity to withdraw.

The other six candidates on the ticket withdrew the day after the polls were closed.

The polls will close at 5 o'clock.

ENGLAND SEES WAR END IN WILSON'S MESSAGE

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.) London, April 3, 12:40 p. m.—The text of President Wilson's address to congress with long accounts of the scenes attendant upon its delivery, were published in the noon editions of the evening papers under big headlines such as "America's Weight in the Scale," "An Indictment of Hohenzollernism," "The United States at War," "Money and Munitions for the Allies."

All the comment is in the most flattering terms and the Westminster Gazette says:

"The stirring words with which the president's address closed brought home all hope on the enemy's part and all fear on the part of the allies that America, having made her choice, will pursue it halfheartedly. It is no limited liability warfare she offers."

Declaring that Prussian militarism had taught the world in this war lesson that it was impossible to live in such a neighborhood as Germany, the Westminster Gazette says that America "has come to this conclusion at the fortunate moment when the Russian revolution had completed the circle of self-governing nations and made them one in form and system as well as in theory and ideals."

Chicago Foreign Born Express Their Loyalty

Chicago, April 3.—Readings of the low the Stars and Stripes across the ocean to the battlefields of Europe were voiced unanimously today by leaders, editors and heads of organizations of the various Polish, Bohemian, Italian, Serbian, Belgian and foreign speaking citizens of this city in discussing the war address of President Wilson. That the call to arms will meet with solid backing among those peoples was proclaimed enthusiastically.

EVANS' WEALTH IS LEFT TO SON

Almost Entire Estate, Valued by Arthur Evans at $593,000, Goes to Him.

REQUESTS TO RELATIVES

The will of the late Henry H. Evans was filed for probate today at Genoa. By the terms of the will Arthur Evans, 231 Evans avenue, only son of the lawmaker and financier, is left practically the entire estate. He estimated the value of the property left by his father at $593,000, $254,000 in personal and $339,000 in real estate. Besides being named as the principal beneficiary, Arthur Evans is named as executor. The will, which was drawn up several days before Colonel Evans' death, was witnessed by former Judge M. O. Southworth and J. Z. Miller.

Other persons named in the will besides Arthur Evans are the late financier's two brothers, Fred and Frank Evans; his sister, Mrs. Susan Lawrence, and the widow of his brother Hiram. An allowance of approximately $40 a month for the remainder of their lives in given each brother and sister. The allowance is to be paid from the income on the shares of German-American National bank stock. The par value of the stock is $20,000. Mrs. Hiram Evans is left $25 a month.

For a number of years Mr. Evans sent money to his two brothers, his sister and his brother's widow every month.

Mr. Evans did not make any provision for his two grandchildren, Henry and Helen Evans, children of Arthur Evans. However, it is understood that before his death he provided liberally for both. The son, a student in East High school, follows a director in Iowa City, Mo., on a railroad. He is believed the youngest railroad director in the world. He is 17 years old.

EIGHT-HOUR OVERTIME READY FOR N.-W. WORKERS

The North-Western road has completed the computation of the amounts due the men under the Adamson eight-hour law and the men expect to receive their checks during the coming fortnight. The payments will average from $50 to $65 per man for the crews employed on regular runs.

The upholding of the law has made a number of adjustments necessary on the road. The suburban schedules have been changed so that a man now works his eight-hour service within the prescribed 16 hours.

The hours of work for the freight crews have also been changed and the work speeded up. The men are now supposed to make 12 miles in 30 minutes. Under the old schedule the rate was 10 miles in the same period of time. The passenger runs on which any freight is carried, such as the St. Charles-Geneva run, have been taken from the list of passenger trains and made straight freight runs. Practically the entire crew that operated on the St. Charles branch has transferred to the Aurora branch.

IMPOSSIBLE TO BAR PEDDLERS FROM MARKET

Albion Fauch, city market master, announced today that it will be impossible to keep professional peddlers away from the city market in North River street. The peddlers pay a license to the city to sell on the streets and they cannot be stopped. From backing their wagons up to the curb in River street, he said.

The market opened this morning, but there was only one wagon at the curb. It was the wagon of a peddler. He sold potatoes at $2.00 a bushel, eggs at 25 cents a dozen and apples at 35 cents a peck.

Women who have been patronizing the market in the past, complained that the prices have been made high because professional peddlers have flooded the market, keeping the farmers out. The market was established. Mr. Fauch says, not for the peddlers, but for the farmers.

TAKEN FROM MOTHER

Jane Thompson, 11-year-old daughter of the well to do but dissolute Mrs. Isabelle Thompson, was taken from her mother today by order of County Judge Hoover and placed in the hands of Mrs. Lillian Holmboe, probation officer. The child was taken to reside with her father, Mr. Nicholas Thompson, and from there to the home of her grandmother's sister, Mrs. James P. Thompson. She has been starting with her mother since she was 10 years old.

WAR THREAT KEEPS SOME FROM GOTHAM

While Hardened New Yorker Goes About Business Unworried, Newcomers Are Fearful.

Another Boast in N. Y. Milk Prices—A Church Ushers Go on Strike—Nurses Propose Reforms.

New York, April 2.—Despite the fact that New York city would be one of the chief objectives of a foe in case of foreign war, seasoned New Yorkers seem to take the likelihood of a conflict with Germany very philosophically. London's experience with Zepelline caudex no worry that is apparent. Daily rumors of German plots, even the wild tale of a thwarted midnight attack on Fort Hamilton last week, is little more than unusually interesting news.

Not so the stranger within our gates, particularly the would-be new residents. If New Yorkers are experiencing the reaction to the prospect of war that some inland dwellers imagine they should feel, trains from this city would be crowded daily with persons fleeing from threatened invasion or bombardment. I met a friend of mine the other day who had lived in a western city for years, and there taken upon himself a wife. He announced gleefully that he had just secured a New York business prospect that promised prosperity. He was about to send for his wife and furniture. A few days later he called at my office. Most dejected man. To my surprise he came to say goodbye.

"When I wrote my wife about the job, he said, 'she wrote back most emphatically that she positively would not come east while there were dangers of a German war. She said her family and friends had all told her that in case of war New York would be the first place attacked, and that nobody would be safe. I have written three long letters and sent two telegrams, but nothing doing. She says if I insist on settling here I might as well join the army and be done with it, for she will promptly get a divorce.'"

Unluckily for him, they were living in a state where the divorce laws are lax.

Milk Goes Higher.
New York housewives prepared again to alter their budgets, when the dairymen's league announced last week that the wholesale price of milk would take another jump, and that a boost in the retail price was likely to follow. This increase will raise the summer price of milk over the winter price for the first time in recent years.

Milk has always been a high-tension subject with New Yorkers, even though there is a notion among outsiders that bona fide residents of this city are more given to their beverages. Nevertheless somebody here drinks it, 2,000,000 quarts a day, gathered from seven different states, and it is not hard to make the people believe that, compared with food values and prices of other table commodities, milk at this price is still a cheap food, and yet disinterested experts assure us that food units considered, they would be getting good value at 25 cents a quart.

The Dollar Express.
The possibility of the United States becoming the financial world power has for some years been the topic of much loose talk. Such speculation has contributed greatly to the gaudy of conservatives. The old saying, which I remember reading in the properly named "While the Bank of England stands, stands England, and with England stands the world," has been held by them to be eternal verity. But with the war came increasing signs of the steady shifting of international credit in our favor. The changes wrought in our international financial methods, heretofore in terms of "dollars" and "pounds" in those terms. This is "Dollar Exchange" and it has been made possible largely thru the new practice in America described as "acceptances."

The federal reserve law makes it possible for a business man to take to the bank a bill of lading or other satisfactory documentary evidence of a safe business transaction in which he is the seller. The bank writes the word "accepted" across the face of the document which then becomes a negotiable paper and may be discounted at a low rate of exchange. Thus the annoyance of open accounts is eliminated and in export and import business makes possible "Dollar Exchange."

How popular "acceptances" have become is indicated by the combined report just issued of trust companies in New York city showing at the end of last November a total of nearly $75,000,000 under customers' liabilities on acceptance. At the end of December the Guaranty Trust company, which was the first American institution to adopt this method had purchased and was carrying on its portfolio almost $35,000,000 in acceptances.

Church Ushers Strike.
Even in the church there is no sanctuary. Here is a new thing in strikes. The Ushers' association has called a strike of ushers and the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church, presided over by the Rev. Dr. Henry Wood, formerly of Birmingham.

N. Y. Court Upholds Reno Divorce Decree

Mrs. Joseph Kaufman.

New York.—Upholding the validity of a Reno divorce decree, the appellate division of the supreme court has denied the appeal of Joseph Kaufman, a wealthy manufacturer, for an annulment of his marriage to Angela Kaufman.

The evidence showed that Kaufman had sent the defendant to Nevada to obtain a divorce; that he had borne the expenses of her suit and supported her during her residence there.

The chief contention in Kaufman's petition for annulment was that his wife had contracted a marriage with another man while she was lawfully wedded to him. He asked to have the Reno decree set aside as invalid.

England. The strike arose over the old question of the stranger within the pews. The pastor had noted with democratic indignation that many of the seats of rich parishioners were vacant, while strangers stood in the side aisles.

Then Dr. Jowett acted. He transferred jurisdiction over the ushers from the board of trustees, which is a secular body in charge of the church's financial affairs, to the session which looks after its spiritual concerns. He said some caustic things to the ushers. He stated further for the benefit of the congregation, that if he noted any more empty pews while visitors occupied standing room, he would read the names of the new holders from the pulpit. Smiling under the rebuke, the ushers walked out in a body. Their technical complaint was that ushering was a business matter, and they objected to the purely spiritual jurisdiction of the session. There the matter stands. Meanwhile strangers must fight it out for themselves with the pew holders.

Chicago, April 2.—Company M, Sixth Illinois Infantry left its quarters at Chicago Heights yesterday for a point somewhere in Illinois.

GENEVA BOYS' FAIR FARM SCHOOL REPORT RECEIVED

Julius Burgeon of Geneva has handed in his report of class work done at the Boys' State school at Springfield, from Sept. 18 to 25, 1916.

This report has been placed in the library museum show case with the exhibits of corn from the Kane county institute of January last, and some of the important pages have been so placed that they can be read by any one interested in the rules and complete masters trained by the student in this matter of investigation, and discloses the wisdom of appointing a class from competitive examinations for these studies. Any one can read this clearly stated manuscript and go into the field and select seed corn for the best farm purposes. When this corn, which is now on exhibition at the museum in the public library, is taken away by the owner to plant, these manuscripts will be placed in one of the history books for future reference at later years.

N. Y. Mayor on Trial

Albany, N. Y., April 2.—When the examination of Mayor John P. Mitchell of New York upon charges of having circulated "false and malicious reports" about Senator Robert F. Wagner was commenced before the senate at noon today every seat in the galleries was occupied. Hours before the time set for the mayor to appear great crowds besieged the capital but police held them in check and no one without a pass was allowed to approach the senate chamber.

For Mayor Mitchell, Charles E. Hughes appeared as chief counsel, and associated with him were Martin W. Littleton, former State Senator; Hiram D. Hinman and Lamar Hardy, corporation counsel of New York city; Samuel Untermyer appeared as counsel for Senator Wagner.

AMERICANS QUIT BELGIUM

Berne, April 2, via Paris.—Seven members of the Belgian relief commission, who have arrived ahead of Minister Brand Whitlock and other Americans, will leave here this afternoon for Paris.

Mr. Whitlock, who is expected tomorrow, will be accompanied by about ninety Americans, including his staff and consular officials. Assistant Director Frontiers Gray of the commission with two or three other Americans remained behind to wind up the American books.

There are also four or five American relief workers still in Belgium who have been close to the German front recently and must therefore remain in the routine "quarantine" of from two to four weeks.

Mrs. Carl Miller of Jefferson avenue, who recently underwent an operation at St. Charles hospital, was removed to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Stuart, in Walnut street, yesterday.

SPECIAL MILITARY WORK OFFERED BOYS AT CULVER

Culver, Ind., March 31.—Special courses for boys who have attended high schools which have adopted military training, will be offered in the camp of military instruction for high school boys to be conducted at Culver military, May 7 to 21. Plans are being made to accommodate 500 young men, and it is expected the majority will come from high schools which have military training.

The first of the Culver camps was held in 1915. It was attended by about 200 persons from various parts of the state. Last year 500 boys from eight states of the middle west received military instruction at the camp. One battalion came from Illinois, one company being composed of Chicago boys, two companies were from Indiana, one from Ohio, and another company was called the "All State" company.

It is planned this year to give special instruction to boys who will be company or squad leaders in their home high schools. The routine work will cover ordinary drill in closed and extended order and will carry these into practical exercises in the field. Camp, selection, sanitation, rifle shooting, first aid, and trench digging are included in the course. In general the work will cover that prescribed for junior units of the reserve officers' training corps.

SAYS SOUTH IS READY

New York, April 2.—William Howard Taft, returning to New York today after what he said was the longest and most strenuous journey he has taken since he left the White House, asserted that the people of the south and southwest are ready for war and that the United States must enter the conflict "wholeheartedly."

Mr. Taft spoke publicly in 11 cities in nine states from Virginia to Missouri in behalf of the program of the League to Enforce Peace and urged upon the people the necessity of preparation for war.

THE WOOD

Near by in a meadow which all of us know, Where but yesterday April Winter lay, Now the first smiles of April chase to and fro, And a meadow-lark is singing today.

He's alone, but he sings as if it were June, And we smile at his joyous refrain, For we know he is piping his catchiest tune, For the care of some meadowlark Jane.

A shy little Jane, who will fall for his spell, And furnish her own wedding gown, As away to some butterfly altar they sail, Over here in the west end of town. T. H. K.

Red Blotches Turned to Pimples Itched Burned

And Smarted Till Nearly Went Wild. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Healed.

"Big red blotches appeared on my face and later turned into pimples. My face was fierce. The pimples itched, burned, and smarted until I nearly went wild and scratched them until I could not rest night or day. They were hard and large and most all came to a head and scattered over my face disfiguring it something awful.

"Remedy upon remedy was used but to no avail and for three years I was tormented. I ran across a Cuticura Soap and Ointment advertisement so I bought them and fifteen or twenty days continued use of the Cuticura Soap and Ointment brought back my good complexion. I was healed." (Signed) Miss Beatrice Barton, R. R. 1, Box 55, Grand Rapids, Wis., Sept. 14, 1916.

It is distressing to reflect that much, if not all, of this suffering might have been prevented by using Cuticura Soap and no other for every-day toilet purposes with a little Cuticura Ointment now and then as needed to soothe and heal the first signs of skin or scalp troubles. Nothing purer or sweeter than these delicate emollients.

Aurora Society News

That it is Holy week is evidenced by the extreme quiet of the entire city. Yesterday's attendance at certain picture shows which have been much hampered, might be expected, as it was said by the various managements, in view of the leading salesrooms of candies and other dainties it was said that the consumption of the goodies had fallen off greatly.

The Parish Daughters of Trinity church are among the city's women who are observing Lent assiduously—the members are earning money in all sorts of ways from ironing, cleaning for other people, to walking to and fro to work instead of street car riding. The money is to be turned over to the Old Ladies' home after Easter.

The Daily Meditation. Meditation, which the late Noah Webster said is "continuous thought," is a part of the Lenten services in many of the churches, while this year the Y. W. C. A. departs from custom in that it has established a rest room for meditation and prayer during Holy week. The original Y. W. C. A. rest room was of necessity utilized as an office by Miss Grace Parls, employment secretary. This year following the noon Lenten services, the curtains are drawn in front of the stage, and the stage used as this quiet room. It seems fairly sensible, this rest room.

In one of the magazines upon the table of the Y. W. C. A. at noon today under the head of "Daily Meditations" is the reference to Psalm 13, which states: "For all the day long have I been plagued and chastened every morning... until I went into the sanctuary of God." The psalmist appeared to place "meditations" upon as firm a footing as "words" anyway—at least it can also be read: "Let the words of my mouth and the meditations of my heart be acceptable in Thy sight." Like Victor Hugo, he may have thought that "No matter what the attitude of the body, there are moments when the soul is on its knees in prayer."

The Lenten Service. The Rev. D. D. Vaughan spoke before a good representation of the women of the city yesterday noon at the Lenten service in the Y. W. C. A. auditorium, using as his text several references in the New Testament, including the cursing of the fig tree by Jesus, bringing out the fact that all uselessness was detested by the Master, and emphasizing the joy of service. Reference was also made to the cleansing of the temple. Mr. Vaughan drawing from this a practical illustration of the real day wrong usage of the house of God, saying that bazaars and all festivities with a financial significance connected therewith are correct so long as these conducting the same do not stoop to robbery of the people—that the use of the church for such purposes with the idea of material gain alone, is misuse of the house of God. Mr. Vaughan may or may not have witnessed the sale of a nickel pin cushion for 35 cents, at some of these same bazaars. The Rev. A. R. Heaps spoke today. Some of the dear old simple hymns were sung, songs which revive memories of childhood Sunday school days—such as:

"Jesus, keep me near the cross
There's a precious fountain
Free to all a healing stream
Flows from Calvary's mountain."

That very verse brings back memories when "Calvary" signified to a childish mind mounted men, for "Calvary" and "cavalry" are only slightly different in spelling.

At Fourth Street Church. Special Lenten services are being held at the Fourth Street Methodist church each evening this week. Dr. Frank D. Sheets presided in the evening and will also talk tonight and tomorrow night. Thursday evening there will be communion services and Friday night, the Rev. G. F. Courrier will speak on "The Crucifixion."

Dr. Robinson to Speak. Thursday evening at the First Presbyterian church, a special Lenten service will be held. Dr. George L. Robinson of the Theological seminary in Chicago, who spoke at the recent dedication and one of the finest speakers of the seminary, giving the address.

Hawthorne Club Election. Nearly the entire membership of the Hawthorne club met yesterday at the home of Mrs. Frank B. Watson in Powers place at 1218 O'Connell for the closing meeting of the season. A long table beautifully decorated with the club colors, pink and white, was bountifully laden with good things to eat, demonstrating that the members are capital cooks as well as devoted readers. The afternoon program comprised the very interesting topics of Panama and Alaska as possessions of the United States and were treated with great care by Mrs. Judd Chapman and Mrs. Joy Love. The officers elected for the coming year are: President, Mrs. Nellie E. Higgins; vice president, Mrs. J. A. Young; recording secretary, Mrs. A. Fredrick; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Judd Chapman; treasurer, Mrs. F. C. Hewitt; editor, Mrs. F. A. Hayes; social committee, Mrs. T. O. Fisk, Mrs. Joy Love.

The general study for the year will be the state of Illinois and personally selected topics.

Miss Pritchard's Wedding. Invitations have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. Elliott A. Pritchard for the wedding of their daughter, Lucille, to Lester Cushing Rogers of Oak Park at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening, April 17, at the First Congregational church. There will be a reception later for the immediate friends and relatives.

Mystic Workers. A social meeting of the Mystic Workers will be held in their lodge rooms Thursday evening. George Alshuler will speak on "Friends, Home and Country." There will be some musical numbers and readings with dancing and refreshments later.

Entertainers for Cousins. Mrs. Arthur Stone (Myrtle Stadlander) entertained a number of young people at her home in New York street last evening for her cousin, Roy Stadlander, of Oberlin college. Mr. Stadlander, who recently graduated from the Iowa state school for the blind, is making a special study of the piano and pipe organ to prepare himself for lyceum work and plays remarkably well for one who has been deprived of the sense of sight since birth. During the evening Mr. Stadlander played several piano numbers. Mrs. Margaret Risengren read and vocal solos were given by Miss Nina Haeni and Miss Ruth Klugger. A very nice luncheon was served by the hostess later.

Continued Reading Circle. The continued Reading circle met yesterday with Mrs. Charles R. Clark in Oak avenue. The program opened with two piano numbers by Lenora Harrick. Mrs. Halsey Johnson gave an unusually good paper on St. Louis, describing the educational institutions, the manufacturing interests and the beauty of the parks and botanical gardens. Mrs. John Park read an account of the relation of St. Louis with the Indians. A postponed paper was given by Mrs. Doty of Bristol who reviewed three parts of Van Dyke's "The Blue Flower." Mrs. Thomas Peaks, who has just returned from Texas where she spent the winter, told about an automobile trip thru St. Louis, Kansas city and return by way of New Orleans and Memphis.

Forum Meeting Postponed. The meeting of the Forum which was to have been held this evening has been postponed until one week from tonight when the members will meet at the Lincoln cafeteria at 7:15 p.m. The subject will be "The Democracy of Robert Burns."

St. Cecilia Club. The St. Cecilia club met yesterday with Mrs. Theron Walters at the home of Mrs. T. E. Walters in South Fifth street. Mrs. M. T. Bruner and Mrs. Arthur E. Teichmann assisting. The program was as follows: "The Brook," Tennyson, composed by Mrs. Wernicke and sung by Mesdames Stanbeck, Meade, Fitch, Stuart, Cromie and Hopkins with Mrs. Wernicke and Mrs. Pierce at the piano. "The Erlking," Schubert, Mrs. Royton.

"Auldyn Idylls," Cyril Scott, Mrs. Dudgeon.

"Talk Happiness," De Prose, Mrs. John Miller.

To Lecture on Hawaii. There in Aurora who have joined in the mad chase for everything Hawaiian will "get their satisfaction" as the old man said—at least a lecture on Hawaii 35° to be given by a girl who spent 16 years on the island and who watched the growth of conditions from primitiveness to those of the present day. Miss Clara Ingalls, assistant physical director of the Y. W. C. A., will talk on Hawaii in the auditorium Saturday evening, April 14, the proceeds to be used toward the fund for the purchase of a filter for the swimming tank. Miss Ingalls who is an expert swimmer, learned the art over in the islands, learned from the natives in fact, and what she has to say about Hawaii will be true. She will have a large number of lantern slides in illustration of her talk.

Beethoven Class to Meet. The Beethoven class will meet this evening with Miss Clara Wilson in Garfield avenue. Miss Clara Harrod of Sandwich will have a paper on von Weber, and there will be a paper on opera, while the class will give a program of his compositions.

Twentieth Century Farmers' Club will meet Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Phelps. W. H. Warford will talk on "Concrete." It is announced that Mrs. Myron Perkins, chairman of the refreshment committee has installed a Chicago telephone and can now be reached by any members who wish to talk to her.

Farmers' Club of the Jericho Road. The Farmers' club of the Jericho road met Saturday evening with Mr. R. F. Fowler. Five papers were played, the scores going to Mrs. Percy Walte and Dr. Harry Matthews of Aurora; the latter a guest as were the Misses Alpha and Anna Fowler. Refreshments were served.

Death of Little Child. The Sylvester family of Aurora is sorrowing over the death of the little son of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Sylvester of Oak Park. Doctor Sylvester is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Sylvester and a brother of Alderman Sylvester. The little child was named for the late "Ed" Sylvester.

Referred to the committee on lights. Alderman Wood handed in a resolution instructing the city attorney to draw up an ordinance for a cement sidewalk on Edward street from High street west to connect with the present walk.

KESSINGER HAS AUTO STREET SAFETY BILL

Streets of Illinois cities are to be decorated with warning red lights if a bill to be introduced in the Illinois senate this week by Senator Harold Kessinger becomes a law.

The red light bill is the "child" of the Aurora Automobile club, and has the endorsement of the automobile clubs of Havana, St. Charles and Elgin of Kane county.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

President Wilson's indictment of the Prussian campaign of frightfulness while expressing extreme sympathy with and friendship for the German people is the spirit in which the United States enters this great world war, "to fight for the things which we have always carried nearest our hearts—for democracy, for the right of those who submit to authority to have a voice in their own governments, for the rights and liberties of small nations, for a universal dominion of right by such a concert of free peoples as shall bring peace and safety to all nations and make the world itself at last free."

No nation in the history of the world except the United States ever engaged in conflict with another nation with this slogan inscribed upon its banners: "We have no selfish ends to serve. We desire no conquest, no dominion. We seek no indemnities for ourselves, no material compensation for the sacrifices we have freely made."

The immortal Lincoln in his address before the special session of congress on July 4, 1861, said:

"Loyal citizens everywhere have the right to claim of their government that it may be administered for all as it was administered by the men who made it and the government has no right to withhold or neglect it. It is not perceived that in giving it there is any coercion, any conquest or any subjugation in any just sense of those terms."

It took four years, thousands of lives, millions of dollars and untold suffering to make that principle good in this country, but it was so made and is today the guiding light of this great nation of ours. It may take years, it will take lives, it will take millions of dollars and yet again untold suffering to make that principle good in this world, but it will be made good just as sure as there is a Divine Hand guiding the destiny of this earth.

President Wilson disclaims once and for all any "hymn of hate" and in this he will be supported by all patriots.

"Our motive will not be revenge," he says, "or the victorious assertion of the physical might of the nation; but only the vindication of right, of human right, of which we are only a single champion."

The United States is fighting for the principle that right, not might, makes right.

The die is cast.

Sacrifices hitherto unknown to the present generation of citizens of this republic will be required. In this crisis, with such a declaration of principles and under the leadership of so sane and calm a mind, every lover of liberty in the United States will stand shoulder to shoulder with his neighbor whether it be within the ranks of the army or the navy or in industry or in the labor which our splendid women will take up for the cause of humanity.

Under these circumstances there can be but one result—world-wide, enduring peace.

THE GARY SYSTEM IN NEW YORK.

Everybody is familiar in a way with the Gary public schools under the supervision of Supt. William A. Wirt. Aurora teachers have joined excursions to the Indiana mushroom city to inspect the system. Members of boards of education and parents interested in education have journeyed from all parts of the country to see the pupils studying and working.

The Gary system is a "study, work and play" plan, to quote its originator. The central principle is that two schools shall occupy the same building, each a counterpart of the other, using alternately the classrooms, shops, gymnasium, auditorium, library, etc. By making the total capacity of the shops, gymnasium, playground, etc., equal to that of the classroom and lengthening the hours of the school day, one outfit is made to accommodate two duplicate schools.

The school day is from 8:30 in the morning until 4 o'clock in the afternoon and the buildings are in use on Saturday for children who wish to go and on Sunday for societies in social center work. Special emphasis is laid on shop room work and on nature study, and the sciences.

Naturally discussion has been rife as to the merits and demerits of the Gary system. The chief argument has been that it was applicable to Gary, possibly, because that city was started on a God-forsaken sand dune to please the whim of the directors of a great steel corporation and not because it had any natural advantages.

But, it has been insisted, the Gary plan would never do for an old established city, or a new one either for that matter unless there were some peculiar conditions to be met.

Therefore, it was with a great deal of interest that public school patrons watched the entrance of Superintendent Wirt and his Gary plan into the city of New York. This was in March 1915. At first the plan was adopted by two schools, one in the Bronx and one in Brooklyn. A year later 11 other schools took it up and more are planning to.

First official figures on the results of the Gary system as applied to New York city are now at hand thru a report made by the district school superintendent the other day to the board of education.

These figures show that the Gary plan has decreased part-time attendance by 57 per cent and increased registration by 11 per cent. That is, although the hours of attendance have been increased, more pupils have been enrolled. Apparently the children are attracted.

According to the superintendent, at a cost of $1,000,000, the Gary system has eliminated part-time work.

EVENING CHIT-CHAT

(By RUTH CAMERON)

The Lady's Selfishness.
"It was too bad you got Mr. K. started about mountain climbing," said the Althorman. "I suppose you didn't know that's his hobby. No one gets a word in edgewise the rest of the evening if someone gives him a chance to talk about the mountains he climbed in his youth."

"Yes," said the Lady, who always knows something, "I know. I've heard him talk about them before."

"You've heard it all before and you encouraged him to do it again," echoed the Althorman incredulously. "You can't mean it, Lady."

He grew Ten Years Younger in 10 Minutes.
The Lady laughed. "But I do," she said. "And it was hard on you people, wasn't it? But you see he looked so old and when you people were talking about the good times you've been having. And I like him and I know how little pleasure he has and I wanted to do something for him. So I gave him a chance to talk, on purpose. And didn't you see how he changed? Why he knew ten years younger in ten minutes. And when we left, his eyes were positively shining. I'm sorry for you people, but to tell the honest truth I'd do it again. You have so much more than he. Does that make you awfully angry with me?"

"Angry?" said the Althorman. "Hardly! Perhaps I'll even be decent enough to help you next time."

"Thank you," said the Lady.

A Way of Giving, Try to All of Us.

"You do that sort of thing all the time, don't you?" said the Althorman reflectively.

"Indeed I don't," said the Lady. "I wish you wouldn't say such things. I always mean to do it more and then I'm careless. It really is a way of giving that we don't know enough about. People love to talk about their adventures and I'm sorry for you people, but to tell the honest truth I'd do it again. You have so much more than he. Does that make you awfully angry with me?"

"Yes," said the Althorman. "Come to think of it, I don't believe Mr. S. would have enjoyed an evening at the theater more."

Hides on Hobbies Sometimes Give as Much Pleasure

"That's funny you should have said that," said the Lady. "For you know, last week I was wishing we could take Mr. and Mrs. S. to the theater and we couldn't quite afford it."

"Bless your heart," said the Althorman. "Don't you ever think of yourself?"

"All the time," said the Lady. "I'm terribly selfish. It makes me unhappy to see other people unhappy."

"If we had enough of that kind of selfishness," said the Althorman. "We'd have the millennium."

YOUR HEALTH

(By JOHN B. HUBER, A.M., M.D.)

Those who want health are best able to feel its value.

Orton.

The Nails.

Sometimes the nails take on an overgrowth in length, width and thickness, or all combined, and perhaps with changes in color. This is the nail disease, the overgrowth is lateral the flesh of the finger, or the toes (mostly the latter) is encroached upon, the pressure exerting an excruciating pain. The trouble is either congenital or it is acquired. The latter is generally by reason of ill-fitting shoes; sometimes blows on the foot are the reason. If we are to get rid of this trouble, we must remove the cause, or ingrowing nail pieces of lint are inserted between the edge of the nail and the inflamed skin. And where proud flesh has resulted the nitrate of silver stick (to be had of the druggist) is first dipped in water and then painted over the proud flesh until it whitens. This application must be repeated every few nights. And before every such treatment the foot must be bathed in a basin of water of boracic acid. When the proud flesh has become very extensive, or where the inflammation has produced pus, the doctor must attend to the case.

There are sufferers whose nails grow very thin so that "the blood shows thru them." There is here really an inflammation of the matrix in which the nail is embedded. The extremity of the finger or toe becomes livid; and the nail, becoming detached on all sides, "exposes a ulcerated surface from which matter escapes. Some bluish has caused this painful condition; or it may be a symptom of syphilis or eczema or some other organic or skin trouble. Here is a condition which only the family doctor should deal with. In mild cases we may proceed with the measures above indicated. In the ulcerative stage complete removal of the nail and surgical dressing of the matrix will be necessary. Internal treatment must be given. If there is any disease to which the nail trouble is related.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Dixey Spells.

For three years I have had dixey spells; when I walk but a short distance I get queer feelings in my head and feel as if I would fall. What can be the reason for this? Answer: The trouble may lie in eye strain or in error of refraction (near or far sightness or astigmatism). The semicircular canals in the ear may be affected (Meniere's disease). You may have stomach or intestinal dyspepsia, a clogged liver or you may suffer constipation. The cause may be indigestion or use of tea, coffee, alcohol and tobacco. The treatment is naturally directed toward the removal of the cause. This can be ascertained only by examination by your family doctor.

tendence and provided for additional pupils which under the regular system would have cost $5,000,000 in buildings and equipment.

FOR AND AGAINST PLAN.

The open meeting of the board of aldermen of New York city the other evening developed the fact that there are both proponents and opponents of the system as tried out in that city.

One woman, the mother of eight children gave the following testimony in favor of the Gary system: "Three of my children," she said, "went to school under the old system, and five of them have been educated under the Gary study-and-play plan; so I think I ought to be in a position to compare the two kinds of schooling."

"Now, without wasting words, I want to say that my three children, products of the traditional schools, can't spell, can't use their hands, can't fit themselves into their proper places in life. My five children who have been educated in the Gary-plan schools, not only know their three R's, but they can use tools, think clearly, and are ready to do their share in the world's work."

"Why, I spent $200 to get one of my three children, who went to the old kind of school, trained so as to get a stenographer's job. One of my girls who has been graduated from a Gary-plan school got all that training, and it cost me nothing."

One of the district superintendents who has charge of four schools, with an attendance of 30,000 pupils of whom 7,000 have graduated says the plan provides room for 40 per cent more pupils, and that manual training and shop work have decreased truancy.

One speaker was against the system because it "interferes with the essentials, the three R's." Another, a woman, objected to "Rockefeller and society women being brought into the schools." A Jewish rabbi said the Gary plan was convincing the teachers of its practicality.

One woman representing the Gary School league said that until the system was adopted two districts in the Bronx had 10,000 children in part-time classes and now this has been eliminated. She said that the great weakness of the traditional school is that children are prepared for professions rather than for trades and this the Gary system rectifies.

The evidence thus far seems to be in favor of the Gary system. Further figures from New York will be awaited with great interest by those who are especially interested in the vocational features of public school work.

Uncle Sam in the Caribbean

XVIII. The Dominican People
(By Frederic J. Haskin)

Santo Domingo City, S. D., March 24.—Ask almost any educated Dominican what he thinks of the American occupation of this republic and he will probably use the word "necesario." He does not rejoice in the present state of affairs; he feels the humiliation of his country, but he realizes that intervention in Santo Domingo by some stronger power was both necessary and inevitable.

Frederico Velasquez H. is the leader of one of the strongest Dominican political factions. He is a man of about fifty, highly educated and intelligent. He says that he recognizes the need for the American intervention, and hopes that the Americans will remain for some time and will help with the constructive work that must be done in the republic. He thinks the necessary work could be done in about five years. He recognizes the fact that no orderly government can be established in the republic until adequate laws are enforced, and provided. He says that his life work is to improve the condition of the Dominican people to the end that they may become an intelligent electorate and support an orderly government.

A governor of one of the most important agricultural provinces was still warmer in his commendation of the Americans. He said that for the first time within his memory his people were able to sow and reap in peace and that for this he was grateful. A native judge in the same province said that for the Americans to withdraw at this time would be a catastrophe.

A wealthy Dominican business man said much the same. He, too, was "awake to the need for constructive work, and wanted to know what the Americans were going to do in that line. He was suggested to him that he and his associates might take the initiative by asking the military government to undertake the reconstruction of the country. He took his head decisively. That, he said, would identify him with politics, and no business man could afford to do that. This statement suggests one of the great obstacles to the rehabilitation of the republic by its own government. As the result of long centuries of intrigue and battle, everyone is suspicious and afraid of everybody while many of the best men will have nothing to do with a brand of politics which is a mixture of demagoguery, intrigue and guerrilla warfare.

A large percentage of the Dominicans, then, welcome the American intervention, and accept it as a good thing. They recognize that some stronger power must restore confidence in law and government and initiate the reconstruction of the country. They are not, however, looking forward to annexation. Most of them wish the best of the Americans, and are willing for us to help them because they trust the altruism of our motive and the good faith of our professions.

In this connection it should be said that the American minister, William W. Russell, and the American consul, Carl M. J. Von Ziehlinski, deserve no little credit for the growing friendship of the Dominicans toward the United States. These two men thoroughly understand the language, the people, and the country; they have made themselves friends of the Dominicans and done much to lessen the friction and shock of the intervention.

It is easy to prove that the Dominicans are a lazy, disorderly people, and also that they are not capable of anything else under present conditions. As in most small Latin American countries, there are just two native classes, the very rich and the very poor. The upper class here is said to consist of not more than 500 families. These hold all the political offices and own nearly all the land. They are wealthy, intelligent, and well educated. Every law is designed to benefit them. There is scarcely any tax on land, because they own it, but there are two or three taxes on everything else. Political salaries are large and numerous, and many of the political bosses include no duties at all. In addition to this, graft in political office was, until the Americans came, the customary and accepted thing.

Upper Class Corrupt.

So the upper class might be described as selfish and corrupt—and necessarily so. There is not much inducement for a Dominican administrator to initiate reforms when at any time some other political faction, by paying a few pesos (10 cents a day) may start a revolution and seize the government. It comes back to this proposition that the government cannot possibly be any better than the people. The wholesale grafting which has characterized all Dominican administration has explained in the same way. Graft in the United States is kept within bounds because it is condemned by public opinion. In Santo Domingo it is supported by opinion. The government has always been regarded as a source of wealth to be seized and exploited by the thick, and Henri built his trapping shack, and then returned to the post to wait until the first and fell, when he would come back with his team, supplies and traps.

And up from the south, at this same time, there was slowly working his way by canoe and trail a young university biologist who was gathering material for a book on "The Reasoning of the Wild." His name was Paul Wayne, and he had made arrangements to spend a part of the winter with Henri Loti, the half-breed. He brought with him plenty of paper, a camera and the photograph of a girl. His only weapon was a pocket-knife.

And meanwhile Kazan and Gray Wolf found the swamp fire on the seeking in a thick swamp fire on the miles from the cabin that Henri Loti had built.

Dripping and panting, and half choked by heat and smoke, Kazan came to Gray Wolf's side. There was but one refuge left near them, and that was the sand-bag. It reached out for 50 feet into the stream. Quickly he led his blind mate toward it. As they came thru the low bush to the river-bed, something stopped them both. To their nostrils had come the scent of a deadlier enemy than fire. A lynx had taken possession of the sand-bag, and was crouching at the end of it. Three porcupines had dragged themselves into the edge of the water, and lay there like balls, their quills alert and quivering. A fisher-cat was snarling at the lynx. And the lynx, with ears laid back, watched Kazan and Gray Wolf as they began the invasion of the sand-bag.

Faithful Gray Wolf was full of fight, and the spring shoulder to shoulder with Kazan, they moved forward. With an angry snarl, Kazan drove her back, and she stood quivering and whining while he advanced. He was the deadly advance of the husky trained in battle, skilled in the art of killing. A man from civilization would have said that the dog was approaching the lynx with friendly intent. The lynx lay on the sand, undisturbed. It was the old story of generations—made deadlier now by Kazan's memory of that night at the top of the Sun rock.

Instinct told the fisher-cat what was coming, and he crouched low and flat; the porcupines, cowering like little children at the presence of enemies and the thickening clouds of smoke, thrust their quills still more erect. The lynx lay on the sand, undisturbed. It was the old story of generations—made deadlier now by Kazan's memory of that night at the top of the Sun rock.

The moon was strange and forboding that night, like a spatter of blood in the sky, and thru the long silent hours there was not even the hoot of an owl to give a sign that life still existed where yesterday had been a paradise of wild things. Kazan knew that there was nothing to hunt, and they continued to travel all that night. When dawn came they struck a narrow swamp along the edge of the stream. Here beavers had built a dam and they were able to cross over into the green country on the opposite side. For another day and another night they traveled westward, and this brought them into the thick country of swamp and timber along the Washington.

And as Kazan and Gray Wolf came from the west, there came from the Hudson's bay post to the east a slim dark-faced French half-breed by the name of Henri Loti, the most famous lynx hunter in all the Hudson's bay country. He was prospecting for "skins," and he found them in abundance along the Washington. It was a game paradise, and the swampy shore abounded in thousands. As a consequence, the lynxes were Because one is a girl it does not naturally follow that one is an expert cook. The way young women learn to cook is by watching the great chefs of America's fine hotels and restaurants is appalling. The young bride who firmly believes that her affection for her husband is going to make her fingers deft at handling pastries lightly has a sad awakening before long. The only way to learn to cook is by knowledge and practice. Often the only knowledge the housewife has of buying, balancing, cooking and serving foods, she has worked out for herself by expensive experimenting at home.

At the present high cost of material it behooves every little lady who means to be a real help to study foods and cookery points before starting on her term of household management.

If she has planned into the new life without adequate preparation she had best call on the reliable producer of quality goods to come to her rescue.

She can serve foods prepared by expert chefs in this way and be sure she will never have a failure. At the same time she will have leisure in which to prepare herself to handle the big problem of feeding her household in the most efficient way.

One substantial dish that she can hardly go wrong with is a ham or part of a ham spiced and baked for dinner. This will afford meat for several meals.

Boil the ham if a ten-pound one, for two hours. Remove the skin. Rub brown sugar into the fat, insert two dozen cloves here and there in the fat and bake, baking often, until done, probably two hours baking. This makes a hearty meal and can be followed by a dessert of crackers, cheese and coffee.

Make a Spanish omelet for breakfast and a casserole ham dish for luncheon. It is advisable to have a different kind of meat for dinner the next night and I would suggest some of the delicious canned meats. A Favorite Drink.
A drink of cool, beaded grape juice is just the thing to break the monotony of those trying housecleaning days which many of us will be going thru shortly.

Every far-sighted housewife will keep a goodly store of beaded grape juice on her emergency shelf. For of easily served refreshments, there is nothing more attractive, more nutritious, nor more satisfying than this popular beverage.

It is also the drink most in demand for the hastily prepared luncheon, the chicken or turkey, the unexpected "bitch" picnic, the motor trip, or the late midnight lunch.

In one of the largest industrial plants I know of, a wonderful new process of clarifying grape juice has recently been installed. All producers of this beverage have long labored with the problem of how to prepare the product for the market without including any of the sediment. It often destroys the attractive brilliancy of coloring as well as the natural flavor of the fruit, and sometimes the acid quantities have been present to such a degree as to make the juice unpalatable.

The new process of clarifying which this one great producer of national reputation has installed, is hailed as one of the most significant advances in the history of grape juice. It results in a juice clarified to the highest possible degree, heavy in body, rich in color, beautiful in appearance and of a most superior aroma and flavor. It is now away with artificial sweetening which had to be resorted to under the old methods to overcome the tart and acid taste.

In this same plant, the grapes are carefully inspected. In order to secure the necessary natural sugar content, only grapes with ripe, plump and which are from well tilled, properly attended and sprayed vineyards are chosen. After the grapes are picked, through the whole process of making the juice does not come in contact with human hands. One of the most important processes in the manufacture of grape juice is that of proper heating. By the special, expert care given the making of commercial grape juice, a article pure, wholesome, healthful and delicious is offered, ready to serve.

Grape Float.—To each glass two-thirds full of plain lemonade, add a cube of ice and grape juice to one inch of the top of the glass. Stir grape juice in very carefully on the ice and it will float on top.

Grape Juice Flare.—Have both grape juice and charged water very cold. Fill glass one-third full of grape juice and add charged water. This is a guaranteed thirst quencher.

Grape Juice Punch.—Heat 1 cup of water and add two cups of sugar and rinds of four lemons and four oranges. As soon as syrup starts to boil, remove rinds. Cool syrup and add the juice of four lemons, four oranges, one pint each of strawberry juice and pineapple juice and one quart of grape juice that has had no sugar added to it. Pour over a block of ice in a punch bowl and serve in punch glasses.

Grape Juice Cup.—Arrange sprigs of mint in tall glasses, fill two-thirds full of cracked ice, pour over the following: To one quart of grape juice, add the juice of two lemons and sugar to sweeten.

Grape Juice Cocktail.—To one pint of pure grape juice, add one-half cup of sugar, juice of two lemons and one pint of water. Mix and serve ice cold, garnishing each glass with thin slices of lemon and orange.

EXILES, FREED, LEAVE SIBERIA

Fifty Thousand Sledges Carrying Victims of Slay Regime, Are Speeding Homeward.

VAST CROWDS CHEER THEM

(By Associated Press Special Wire.)

Trumen, Siberia, March 31, via Petrograd and London, April 2.—Fifty thousand sledges, carrying victims of the old regime back to freedom in the new Russia from the mines and convict settlements of Siberia, are speeding in endless chain across the snows of north Asia toward the nearest points on the trans-Siberian railway. Their passengers range from members of the old terrorist society to exiles who were banished by administrative decree without trial or even known offense.

It is a race against time as the spring thaw is imminent and the roads, even in the coldest settlements of the lower Lena, will soon be impassable. Exiles who do not reach the railroad within a fortnight must wait six weeks or two months until the ice melts and river navigation begins. In order to meet this unprecedented migration a correspondent of the Associated Press came here in company with a member of the duma, M. Rosenoff, and two members of the former council of empire. The three officials were sent by the provisional government to explain to the natives in these remote Russian outposts the nature of the great change which has come to the country. Their mission carries them to some scores of thousands of heathen Asiatic tribesmen and they are especially directed to instruct voters in regard to the coming constituent assembly which will decide the form of Russia's new government.

On Road for Weeks. The liberation of Siberia's prisoners has barely begun. West of the Ural mountains, a band of exiles who, when the revolution began, were at or near the railroad. The first large party was encountered when the Siberian express reached Ekaterinburg in the Ural. It consisted of 150 political convicts and administrative exiles, including 20 members of the Jewish revolutionary band, mostly from the Verkholsk district west of Lake Baikal. The exiles were traveling in special cars and had been on the road continuously from March 24, five days after they first heard of the revolution.

The cars were met by a vast crowd at the railroad station which cheered them tumultuously. The returning exiles returned the cheers but were in a deplorable physical condition, shaggy, uncouth, unwashed and extremely emaciated. Many were crippled with rheumatism, two had lost hands and feet from frost bites and one, who had been a Russian work he had been shot in the leg when he was recaptured. He was lying in a prison hospital when he learned that he was a free man.

The exiles had started west so hurriedly that they arrived in an extraordinary variety of incongruous garb. Some wore new costumes which had been supplied by sympathizers along their route and some had handsome fur overcoats covering their hideous jail uniforms. Among those who wore the latter costume was a young millionaire aristocrat from Odessa who had been sentenced to life ten years ago for fomenting a revolutionary mutiny in the Black sea fleet. Others of the party wore shaggy sheep and woolen skins as a protection against the bitter Siberian blasts. One man from the Irkutsk city jail wore the gold braided uniform tunic of the dismissed governor of Irkutsk under a ragged and greasy overcoat.

Trade Are Jammed. As soon as the news of the revolution spread thru Siberia those exiles who had the means started for the nearest railway, traveling day and night in the Arctic cold on peasant sledges or government post sleds. An enormous number of sledges from widely scattered settlements converged on Irkutsk and so congested the trails that the movement was held up sometimes for hours. Five days after the triumph of the revolution 5,000 exiles entered Irkutsk but the vast majority were unable to proceed west owing to the lack of rolling stock. These encamped about the town and along the railroad and at least a month will be needed before they can be sent home.

The president of the exile reception committee in Ekaterinburg gave the correspondent a general picture of the present conditions and prospects of the exiles. He said that there were probably altogether 100,000 persons in Siberia who had been released under the amnesty measure of the provisional government. This number comprises political offenders, including terrorists convicted after trial, persons suspected of furthering revolutionary propaganda and exiled without trial by order of the secret police, gendarmes or the minister of the interior. Finally some tens of thousands of peasants exiled without trial by decrees of the village communal councils. Many of the latter will remain in Siberia voluntarily, where conditions of life and work are excellent under the reform government.

PROPOSES PEACE PARLEY

(By Associated Press Special Wire.)

Berlin, April 2, via London.—The proposal of Count von Seernin, Austrian foreign minister, that a peace conference be held by belligerents without requiring the cessation of hostilities apparently represents the attitude of all the central governments. Count Seernin's proposal was not only sanctioned by Austria and her allies but will shortly be formally approved at a conference of high personages at Berlin representing the four countries.

Voice of the People

Letter to President.

Editor Beacon-News: Please publish in The Beacon-News this letter I sent to President Wilson March 29, 1917:

"St. Wendelin's Church, Shannon, Ill. 'Excellency—Dear Mr. President: 'My very old parents live in Germany, suffering extreme hardships on account of the war. Therefore I am going to ask you: Can't we justly upon sending food to Germany as well as to England? Is it more honorable to help crushing the central powers by starving their people, than it is to starve the people of Great Britain? Shall we help to continue this bloodshed on both sides? Are we indebted to Wall Street, and does J. P. Morgan in a democracy like this have more influence in Washington because he has more money? Or are we practically all alike in this country? 'Can't we stay away from all this if it is dangerous to travel on armed merchant ships? 'Maybe the president's secretary will throw this letter in the waste basket; but remember well, both president and secretary: there is a 'Just God-judge' in heaven, who will and cannot be bought by any money power in the world, he will judge you as well as mine. EXPECT TO SETTLE MILK STRIKE SOON

Dispute Between Teamsters, Producers and Distributors to Be Adjusted Today, Is Promise.

All Danger of Shortage Over, Fred C. Young Says—Farmers Must Pay for the Hauling.

The dispute between milk producers in this section and the teamsters who haul the milk from the farms to the distributors in Aurora will probably be settled today. The haulers are asking an increase of 5 cents per 100 pounds. They have been getting 20 cents a hundred.

Young of the Young Condensed Milk company, said today that the local distributors are getting more milk than they need to supply their customers. There is no immediate danger of a shortage, he said. "Farmer Must Pay for Hauling."

In the past the distributors have paid the haulers and deducted the money before paying the producer," Mr. Young said. "Now we are letting the farmer take care of the hauling. We will pay the 2.12 per 100 pounds and the producer will pay the hauler."

Most of the teamsters went out on their routes this morning, announcing that they will continue at work until they are convinced that the producers will not give them the increase.

WHEATON COLLEGE NOTES

Wheaton, Ill., April 3.—The library has recently been recatalogued according to the Dewey system. About 2500 worth of new books are being placed this year. Among the most valuable is the new Bible dictionary, published by Howard-Severance company of Chicago. These five beautiful volumes are the gift of J. Mitchell Howard, the head of the first. The work was prepared under the supervision of Dr. Orr of Edinburgh. It is undoubtedly the best work of its kind now before the public.

The Rev. J. G. Brooks, pastor of the college church, has been absent for some weeks in the state of Montana. His services were asked by the superintendent of home missions in that state and he has been conducting protracted meetings with very good results in several cities and towns.

He writes that the weather has been severe and that he has suffered somewhat from cold but that on the whole he is well and that the results are satisfactory. He is expected to be in his pulpit about the second Sunday in April.

President Blanchard attended the recent meeting of the North Central association of colleges and secondary schools in St. Louis. This association covers the territory between the two mountain ranges in our country, the Ohio river and the Canada line. There are some 1,500 universities, colleges, high schools and normal schools connected with it. For several years the association has devoted most of its time to what is called standardization. It has done a valuable service in this direction and is now, it is hoped, to give itself to educational discussion.

While in St. Louis, President Blanchard preached in the Washington and Compton streets Presbyterian church and in the West Presbyterian church. He is expected in the Webster Groves Presbyterian church April 7, thus giving three Sundays to St. Louis and vicinity.

The financial condition of the college is very satisfactory at this time. The expenses to April 1 are provided for. There will still be required, to complete the work of the year, three or four thousand dollars. More than $12,000 has already been contributed. In addition to current expenses $1,000 are desired for building improvements and about $250,000 for endowment. Those acquainted with the college know that it does not contract debts.

During the absence of the pastor of the college church the pulpit has been supplied by various workers. The Rev. Dr. Morgan of Chicago, the Rev. Dr. Hitchcock of Chicago, Professor Straw of the college, Mrs. David Eldall, house mother of the Missionary Home, The Chicago Boys' club of Chicago, President Blanchard and others.

The meeting in charge of the Boys' club of Chicago was one of the most effective that has been held. The number present was large and the work very impressive.

STORIES TOLD BY MAN AND WOMAN PRAISING INTER-STATE DOCTORS

FRIENDS ALL KNOW HOW SHE SUFFERED

Aurora Lady in a Bad State of Health Prior to Taking the Treatment.

Aurora, Feb. 22, 1917.

Dear Doctors:—I want to write and let you know how well I am getting along. I feel like a different woman. I had been sick for 12 years and had doctored with a dozen or more doctors, some of them for four or five months at a time, but did not get any relief—in fact I grew worse.

None of the doctors seemed to know what my trouble was. They would say, "Oh, you are like all women of your age." After you had given me a good examination, and explained just what my trouble was and how it was caused, I began to feel right away that at last I had found the doctors who could do me some good.

I began doctoring with you one month ago, yesterday, and now I feel renewed in health, am strong, eat well, not a bit nervous and can sleep like a child. In fact I am improving right along and so fast that I believe in a few weeks or a month I will be entirely cured of my troubles.

I am telling all people I know who are afflicted as I was to be sure and go to see you.

SAYS HE KNOWS GOOD HEALTH NOW

Aurora Man Relates How Herbal Medicines Have Now Entirely Restored His Health.

Aurora, Ill., March 24, 1917.

Dear Doctors:—For a number of years I have been in a poor state of health, and I had no appetite whatever; what little I did eat I could not digest, as it would form gas in my stomach. My kidneys and liver were also affected, and I had pain in my back and side. I always felt tired and worn out and was pale and anemic, with no ambition and energy to do anything.

My condition began to get very serious and I decided to try the Inter-State Doctors as I had heard so much about them. It was not long after taking their treatment that I noticed improvement, and now I eat anything I want, my cheeks are red as an apple, my nerves are steady and I sleep well and have the best appetite I have had for years. I am gaining in strength every day and feel so well that it is a pleasure for me to recommend their treatment and remedies to all who are in search of health.

The Big Event Has Happened! Free 640-Acre Wyoming Homesteads

The long-wanted 640-acre Homestead Act is now a law. It permits application for homesteads in the grass-covered livestock area of Central and Northeast Wyoming. You can reach this area either over the Burlington's main line via Douglas for Converse County, or via Moorecroft and Gillette for Northeast Wyoming. Inquire early and go early.

This area contains large bodies of excellent grazing lands from fifteen to fifty miles from the railroad. Write me for circular of information and instructions, which will tell you exactly what to do, without loss of time, to apply for a stock raising and dairy homestead. You can secure one of these valuable mile-square homesteads in a well known, permanent, livestock area in Wyoming.

It is my judgment that practically all of the desirable grazing and agricultural lands will be applied for during 1917, and I consider it my duty to advise you of this opportunity.

JENNINGS HAS FIND IN EHMKE

Youngster Makes Good on Training Trip and Will Help Tiger Pitching Staff.

TUB SPENCER COMES BACK

(With Jack Velock).

New York, April 3.—When Hughie Jennings headed his scrappy Detroit Tigers for the spring training camp a young and ambitious pitcher who answers to the name of Howard Ehmke was among them. When the American league race commences Jennings will see his Tiger on their rivals this young man's name will be on the score cards as a member of the regular pitching staff, for Howard Ehmke has made a profound impression on the Tiger boss.

Detroit fans are full of conversation whenever Ehmke's name is mentioned. They have heard so much about him from the scribbles who accompanied the club to the land of cotton that they can scarcely wait until he is turned loose in a championship game. The gens of the press are full of the assertion that he is a find; that he is just the young man Jennings has been looking for to round out the pitching staff.

Ehmke was secured from the Syracuse club of the New York State league. He came to the Tigers with a reputation for effectiveness that few young pitchers bring up from the minors, and so far he has lived up to his "rep." In a total of 25 games in which he worked for the Syracuse club, Ehmke finished with 31 victories and seven defeats. He established a streakout record for the league by whipping 195 batters, and opposing teams were able to score only 1.84 runs per game off his delivery.

So far this spring Ehmke has looked every inch a star. His only reputed weakness when he joined the Tigers was said to be inability to handle bunts, yet his fielding record shows that only three errors were charged against him in 23 games—which is considerable of a record. Detroit scribbles have concluded that the report on Ehmke was pure bunk. Like all newcomers in the big leagues, Ehmke has yet to demonstrate that he is ready for a regular job, but Jennings is confident that he will go the route, and if the veterans of the Tiger staff can return to the form that Hughie has a right to expect of them, the Tiger staff, with Ehmke, may be all that Jennings needs to enable his side to slug under the whip ahead of the field. We know? Speaking of the Tiger's slug under the whip, they have a "comeback" in their midst. He is "Tubby" Spencer, the veteran catcher and from late last season and the winter at the comeback stuff. Spencer joined the Tigers late last season and the bugs around the American league circuit who knew him in the old days were surprised to see in him a greatly changed player.

MITCHELL'S CUBS SEEM READY FOR THE OPENING

Wichita, Kas., April 3.—Manager Mitchell's Cubs are ready for the opening of the National league race, if the hitting they did here yesterday is any indication. Frank Lebell, former White Sox, sent two of his best pitchers to the rubber in an effort to defeat the big leaguers, but that availed him nothing, for the Cubs hammered the ball terrifically, running up a score of 16 to 5 on 14 hits.

The Haier and Cy Williams, who are expected to be two the Cubs' mainstays with the club this season, were the bright lights in the contest. The former arched the enthusiasm of the fans by hitting the ball over the right field wall for a home run in the second inning, with a man on first. Cy made an exceptionally long hit in the fourth by driving the ball against the score board, but made only two bases when the sphere rebounded to the field. Haier and Williams each got three hits.

WHITE HOSE DEFEAT OKLAHOMA UNIVERSITY

Norman, Okla., April 3.—Hitting the bowl and pitcher circuit yesterday the White Sox stepped off here and defeated the University of Oklahoma team, 9 to 1. The one represents the concentrated thought and erudition of the collegians in their fourth inning, when in holding "Mel" Wolfgram to strict accountability they succeeded in cementing a double and single.

The other fagot to this collegiate bonfire was picked up in the second round, when their third safe hit materialized. Russell reached the last four innings, and only one pitched first during his term, and that one on an error by Risberg.

THREE-I MEETING

(By Associated Press Local Wire.)
 Peoria, Ill., April 3.—President Jack Ryan of the Peoria club of the Three-I league in a message to President A. R. Kearney of Chicago today requested a special meeting of the league to amend the five-rookie rule passed last winter.

"I expect six other clubs to join in the movement," said Mr. Ryan. President Ryan suggested the meeting be held April 5.

Peoria officials want the rule changed from five rookies to either two or three new men on each club.

WILLIAMS BEATS McNEIL

Philadelphia, Pa., April 3.—For two rounds Kid Williams, former bantamweight champion, was unable to do much with Benny McNeil, the raggy English bantam, but from the third to the end the little Baltimore terror was in excellent condition and jabbed and jolted his opponent enough to take the decision in six flashy rounds.

TY COBB QUITS TIGER SQUAD TO JOIN MATTY

Wichita Falls, Texas, April 3.—Ty Cobb quit the training tour of the Tigers and will finish his conditioning with Christy Mathewson's team at Cincinnati. Cobb's action is the result of his first fight with Buck Herzog in a hotel room at Dallas Saturday night. Cobb decided that if he did remain with the team he would be a member of the "Glants" would "kick" him too much, and his decision to go to City has been approved by Manager Jennings and Matty. Cobb will rejoin the Tigers at Toledo next Monday.

BOSTON BRAVES FIGHTING CLUB

Johnny Evers and Walter Maranville Are Life of George Stallings' Infield.

TEAM ALWAYS DANGEROUS

The Boston Braves have somewhat of a reputation as a fighting ball club. The Braves are fighters on the field of play, and in this year's campaign they may be counted upon to make a hot fight for the flag.

But whatever may be said of those Braves, one thing stands out as an unusual feature: They have more temperament and nervous energy anchored around second base than any club in the two big leagues.

With the veteran Johnny Evers on second and that little pepper ball, Walter Maranville, at short, the Braves' infield is a character of energy and fighting spirit to the square inch represented by those joint guardians of the keyhole cushion than any other club can boast of. Evers is entering upon his sixteenth year in baseball, and he hopes to make 1917 one of the best seasons of his long career. Nervous temperament on the field of play is a characteristic of Evers, and no doubt his high-strung nerves have helped to keep him in the game this long, although last season a breakdown threatened to put an end to his career.

Maranville is a little cyclone of energy. He is the ranking shortstop of his league when it comes to all-around ability, and he Evers he will fight for a point at the drop of a hat on the field of play.

If Evers has a good season his presence in the Braves' lineup day in and day out will mean much to Boston. It will also mean much to Maranville, for with Evers on second the little Rabbit is said to play a snappier brand of ball because they work together with machine-like precision.

During the winter Evers attended the National league meeting and at that time he looked to be in good health. He said he had high hopes of a banner year, and if he succeeds in keeping his health all season he may make this his last year in the majors.

Evers is the last of the grand old Cub infield. He stands alone as a landmark, for one of the greatest infield combinations ever gotten together, for Tinker, Chance and Steinfield have passed. Evers and Frank Schulte are the only members of the Cub champions of 1905 who played in the memorable game in which Fred Muckie pulled his famous homer in New York by forgetting to touch second. Evers' presence of mind in that game marked him as a brassy player and today there is no smarter man in baseball than the little Trojan.

Denouncing a country in which one lives is not only ungrateful and foolish but just now is a sure way to get into trouble.

He Quit Cigarettes

Gained Over 30 Pounds

Mr. Ferguson's Experience

"I smoked cigarettes ever since a boy. From six to eight sacks of tobacco, I used weekly."

"They were doing me great harm. I became so nervous that I couldn't sleep until I smoked. Each morning I had a awful taste in my mouth."

"Several times I tried to quit by will-power, but it just seemed that I would go wild if I couldn't have cigarettes."

"I had almost given up hope of ever quitting until one day I sent for a book that told me what to do. After learning the way, I quit easily in three days and haven't touched a cigarette in years. I have gained over thirty pounds and I am now free from the habit of smoking cigarettes, pipe or cigar, or who have been chewing tobacco excessively."

After some years Mr. Harvey went to Geneva and operated greenhouses and market gardens on the property now Riverbank. He was married to Col. George Fabian. For the past 15 years he has been purchasing agent for the A. E. & C. railroad at Wheaton.

Active in School Work. For a number of years Mr. Harvey and family resided in the Rattery house at the corner of Highland avenue and Downer place. He was the first president of the Parent-Teacher association of the West High school and was always greatly interested in school work.

Mr. Harvey was married in 1893 to Miss Jennie Dow of Chicago and five children were born to them, all of whom are living. They are: Dow, Julia, Grace, Joel and John. Mrs. Harvey died in 1904 and a few years later he was married to Grace Lusk Updike of Geneva, who survives him.

Mrs. Harvey shared her husband's activity in educational and civic work and during their residence in Aurora both of them were well known for their labors in this direction. There also survive, his mother, Mrs. Joel Harvey, who has long resided in the ancestral home, and two brothers, Harry of Chicago, and Philip of Boston. In 1916 they moved to Geneva.

About a year ago Mr. Harvey suffered a stroke of apoplexy and has been an invalid ever since. During that time he has had the constant care and devotion of his wife and children. The family has many friends in Aurora who will extend their sympathy.

Spanish Revolt Fails.—Washington, April 2.—Conditions in Spain have become normal again. A dispatch from Ambassador Riano here today said:

WILSON CALLS CABINET ON WAR.—(Continued from page one.)

De Follette Asks Martin.—When Senator Hitchcock reported the war resolution as amended and asked for its immediate consideration, Senator La Follette asked that under the rules, it go over until tomorrow.

Senator Martin.—The majority leader, angrily faced Senator La Follette, saying:

"Of course it is within the power of the senator to carry this over. He has too much experience to make it necessary for me to tell him that his attitude is a matter of such tremendous consequences."

Senator La Follette broke in with a protest against being "decried" by Senator Martin.

Rush Adjournment.—"I had no idea of lecturing the senator," Senator Martin retorted, "but I have a right to call the attention of the senate and the senator to the momentous consequences of the resolution."

"It's quite unnecessary," La Follette interjected. "I think I realize it as fully as the senator from Virginia does. I ask the regular order."

Senator Martin.—The majority leader, angrily faced Senator La Follette, saying:

"Of course it is within the power of the senator to carry this over. He has too much experience to make it necessary for me to tell him that his attitude is a matter of such tremendous consequences."

Senator La Follette broke in with a protest against being "decried" by Senator Martin.

Rush Adjournment.—"I had no idea of lecturing the senator," Senator Martin retorted, "but I have a right to call the attention of the senate and the senator to the momentous consequences of the resolution."

"It's quite unnecessary," La Follette interjected. "I think I realize it as fully as the senator from Virginia does. I ask the regular order."

The voice president called for other bills and resolutions and Senator Martin precipitated the adjournment.

"I desire to say right here," he announced, "that no other business shall be proceeded with until this matter is settled. I move that the senate adjourn until 10 o'clock tomorrow."

The galleries greeted this announcement with a wave of hand-clapping which was not suppressed.

The senate then adjourned.

Already at War With Germany.—The United States really is at war with the German empire today, awaiting only the formal recognition of congress.

Every agency was moving to give the nation against the government which Wilson in his address to congress characterized as a natural foe to liberty.

The cabinet at a war session was called to discuss the extension of credits to the nations already at war against Germany; the raising of money by taxation war; the equipment of the navy to the fullest state of efficiency to cope with the submarine menace; and the raising of a great army on the principle of universal liability to service—the first increment of which is to be 500,000 men.

Rush Mobilization Work.—The council of national defense and its advisory committee in a joint session continued the work of mobilization of the national resources to bring the government of the German empire to terms and end the war, as the president expressed it.

The war department was ready to present to congress its plans for raising an army just as soon as the legislative body asks for it.

Work in congress on the resolution to formally declare a state of war existing went rapidly forward.

The senate foreign relations committee approved the resolution as introduced without change in its effect.

The house committee is expected to act later today.

War Measure Up Early.—The administration resolution declaring a state of war exists with Germany and directing the president to prosecute war against the imperial German government to a successful termination was presented to the senate early today.

Senator Hitchcock, for the foreign relations committee, asked unanimous consent for its immediate consideration. Senator La Follette objected, and it went over under the rules for one day.

Universal compulsory military training legislation was formally introduced today in the senate when Senator Chamberlain of Oregon, chairman of the military committee, introduced his amended bill providing for training of about 500,000 men of 18 years of age, and in the president's dispatch to congress, thousands more up to 22 years of age. The bill was referred to the committee.

Expect Central Powers As Foes.—The sharp focusing of attention by the president's address on the present autocracy of Germany is expected to make some curtailment of that autocracy essential as a peace preliminary.

While the Austrian, Bulgarian and Turkish situation remains just as it was, so far as this country is concerned, it is probable that Germany will force those nations to her side. Austria, deeply affected by freedom in Russia and fearful of a break with this country; Bulgaria, already satisfied with her war results and anxious for peace without disaster; Turkey, overrun from four sides by Russian and British troops, all are known to be ready for peace negotiations on any reasonable terms. Germany, however, has built up during the war a domination in those countries which may not be broken.

Count Tarnowski, who as President Wilson said, could not be received as an Austrian ambassador, is expected to sail for his safe conduct home. Officials had hoped to avoid a break with Austria and have postponed it as long as possible. Just after the receipt of the Austrian note affirming Germany's desertion Count Tarnowski was told that he could not present his credentials and it is thought to be as a result of this that Ambassador will follow within a few days.

ASK YOUR FRIEND.—There is hardly a neighborhood in any city, town or hamlet in the United States where women cannot be found who have derived benefit from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For more than forty years this famous remedy has been overcoming some of the worst cases of female ill. As one woman has found help she has told another, who has used it with the same result; so the use of this great medicine has spread from shore to shore by the recommendation of those who have found it good. Therefore, ask your neighbor, let her tell you from experience the benefit which this famous medicine has brought her.

Full diplomatic relationship would under such conditions not exist, and little doubt is felt that the next step Penfield has been summoned home.

Stane Alone Opposes.—The senate foreign relations committee today approved the administration resolution declaring a state of war exists with Germany in practically the same form as it was introduced in both houses of congress last night. Changes were made to the wording but the effect remains the same.

The vote was unanimous except for Chairman Spooner. Senator Borah of Idaho was absent. Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, who will handle the resolution on the floor, went immediately to the house foreign affairs committee to show it the changes the senate committee had made in order to have it put before both houses in the same form. He will report the resolution to the senate today and an effort will be made to put it thru as soon as possible.

Text of Resolution.—The resolution as approved by the senate committee now is as follows: "Whereas, the imperial German government has committed repeated acts of aggression against the United States and the people of the United States of America; therefore, be it, Resolved, by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled, that the state of war between the United States and the imperial German government which has thus been declared upon the United States is hereby formally declared; and that the president be and he is hereby authorized and directed to employ the entire naval and military forces of the United States and the resources of the government to carry on war against the imperial German government; and to bring the conflict to a successful termination all of the resources of the country are hereby pledged by the congress of the United States."

Chairman Stone, who voted against the resolution said he would not make a minority report but expected to speak on the floor.

Sought Quick Action.—An effort to pass thru the resolution declaring a state of war before the senate adjourns tonight was made by democratic leaders.

"The resolution ought to pass in 30 minutes," said Senator Martin, the democratic floor leader. "I don't think any senator ought to speak more than five minutes on this subject. They ought to get it out of their system and expect to do it. I am in favor of sitting thru until it is passed. The senate ought not to adjourn without acting on it."

Senator Martin said that when the resolution comes from the foreign relations committee any senator opposed to its immediate consideration can under the senate rules force it to go over for one day. He did not believe, however, that such action would be taken even by pacifist senators.

Democrats of the house foreign affairs committee met informally to discuss the war resolution. As the republican committee men will not be named until later in the day, it is probable that the republican committee would be named as early as possible and it was planned to assemble the entire committee and report the resolution without delay.

The house completed committee organization for today by adopting a resolution to put the hold-over republican members in the senate and place them in the last congress on important committees. New members will be assigned later.

Expect Action Today.—Congress met today to act on President Wilson's request that it declare a state of war exists between the United States and Germany.

Prospects early today were that resolutions to that effect would reach the floors of both house and senate during the afternoon.

It is taken for granted that this declaration will be adopted by congress in two or three days at the most.

Specifically the president in his address last night, asked congress to declare the recent course of the German government to have been one of war against the United States government, and people of the United States and that this nation accept the status of belligerent which had been forced upon it.

Congress, acting for the American people, today took action looking to subduing the nation, as the president expressed it, to "exert all its power and employ all its resources to bring the government of the German empire to terms and end the war."

Cabinet in War Council.—While congress went ahead with its work, the cabinet met in a virtual war council.

The president's address was read in Washington today with the greatest

NATIONAL DEFENSE COUNCIL IN CONFERENCE

(By Associated Press, Special Wire.)—Washington, April 3.—The Council of National Defense and its civilian advisory commission was in special session at the war department again today, at work on immediate mobilization of national resources and energies.

Reports have been current for some time that additional cabinet members might be appointed to direct such work in co-operation with the council.

A secretary of munitions and a secretary of transportation may be created. No indications have come from the council, that such legislation is a part of the program.

Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, chairman of the advisory commission and Howard E. Coffin of Detroit, commissioner in charge of munitions preparations, have been suggested as cabinet possibilities.

The council is prepared to recommend to the individual states the part each should take in a national defense projects and has also discussed ways and means of securing prompt registration of alien residents.

enthusiasm. Most senators and representatives expressed profound gratification at the first note sounded by the president.

President Wilson this morning went to a nearby Virginia country club for a round of golf. He planned to return early and keep in close touch with senate and house leaders.

Few Committee Changes.—The house met today with a few changes in committee chairmanships from the arrangement in the last congress. The minority committee assignments were determined upon today by the republicans. On the assumption that in general they would follow those of the last session, former republican members of the foreign relations committee were invited to meet with the democratic members this morning, to consider the war resolution.

Southern democrats were replaced by northern democrats as committee chairmen in some cases. The democrats retained their majority in all committees but allowed the republicans one more place on some of the important committees.

Four War Bills Ready.—House leaders today planned to have the house pass perfunctorily four important appropriation bills while the senate failed to act on at the last session. In the same form as passed by the house of the last congress and as reintroduced yesterday. They are:

Army, carrying $247,061,105; sundry civil, $138,241,964; general deficiency, $62,582,280; and military academy, $1,348,496.

Chairman Dent of the house military committee, announced that the army and military academy measures were to be pressed thru within 24 hours under an agreement between democrats and republicans.

Rounds of Cheers Mark 15th/16th Klux Klan White Battle Scenes Excite Tense Interest.

"The Birth of a Nation" has by no means lost its power to stir the emotions of the audience. This was evidenced last night at the Fox theater when the classic movie spectacle was presented for a second run in Aurora. Thrilling rescues of the Ku Klux Klan called forth rounds of cheers.

The battle of Petersburg, the assassination of President Lincoln and the awe-inspiring rides of the Ku Klux Klan impress on second viewing as greatly as when first beheld in picture.

The musical score, too, is the same marvel of synchronization for each melody is illustrative of the shifting scene.

LASKY ENGAGES TOURNER.

One of the most important directorial acquisitions made by any member of the Paramount group was announced when it became known that Jesse L. Lasky has engaged Maurice Tourneur, the celebrated French director, for at least one year. Mr. Tourneur's first picture for Paramount will have Miss Petrova as its star and he will also direct the famous Russian actress's second Lasky production.

Mr. Tourneur will direct nine pictures during the year for Lasky, work on the Petrova photoplay beginning within the next two weeks.

It was the exceptionally fine result which M. Tourneur obtained in the staging of the adaptation of "The Poor Little Rich Girl" of which Mary Pickford is the star, that determined Mr. Lasky as chief supervisor of the producing activities of the Famous Players-Lasky corporation, to place M. Tourneur under contract at once. Arrangements had been completed between producer and director within one week of the first preliminary showing of "The Poor Little Rich Girl."

Universal Director George Marshall has completed the three-reel picture called "The Brennan Gentleman" featuring Neal Hart, and is working on another two-act picture called "The Career of Casey," with Janet Eastman in one of the principal roles.
